I had the good fortune last week to sit in with a Common Law group in Australia called The People's Lore of Terra Australis. They wanted to hear what I was doing in the States and share with me what they were learning in Australia. I was impressed to find that they have made some inroads down under that we had not made here and that quite possibly they are making some breakthroughs that are going to affect all countries touched by the Commonwealth or Crown of England.

The smoke and mirrors for the Commonwealth countries is this fictitious corporate entity that claims to have any authority with a made up fictional law of the sea over people they have contracted with in secret by virtue of the Birth Certificate being used to squeeze the living man or woman into a commodity that can be sold and traded. The good folks in Australia claim to be making progress on exposing the fraud that has been committed by virtue of pulling back the curtain on who is actually working the levers, very similar to Toto exposing the Wizard of Oz.

A gentleman named Uluki (beginning at 30 minutes in, watch below) shares that as early as this week evidence will come out as to who the Crown of England really is vs. the Agents who have been acting under the Corporation and that through this exposure the Birth Certificate Bond is going to be revealed as well as the fictional law that defends it. There will then be two laws in effect with Common Law actually making a return to the courtroom where people will have the option to operate in either Common or Maritime Law (Common Law winning out eventually). But the difference here is that anybody who knows Common Law will be able to challenge the judge to find out who he is serving thereby forcing a remedy. The Common Law man or woman will be able to identify in a way that indicates they are not part of the corporate fiction. The Birth Certificate Bond will start to be disseminated in the form of forgiveness of loans and credit. To that end, a gentleman with the Terra Australis group by the name of Alex who has made numerous documentary films on the Pyramids of Giza, shared with me the paperwork they have created to establish themselves as Executor of their Estate, a power they claim is more powerful than Secured Party Creditor because it doesn't just state a claim within the UCC commercial law structure, but goes beyond that to then force anyone in the corporate structure who is acting as Trustees for the Birth Certificate Trust to perform their duties.

The rub has always been enforcement...as in how do you get the criminals to enforce the real law that exists outside of their fictional structure. And when asked this question regarding the curtain that is going to be pulled back this week, Uluki said that the enforcement mechanism was a secret. And I do appreciate his saving that bit of information until it has been performed.

As many of you know, my experience is that we get enforcement from the IRS. They have the ultimate power because they can instantly expose the fraud of anyone taking money from the Birth Certificate account and not paying taxes on it. Once you find this lynchpin the whole house of cards comes tumbling down. That's why I actually hold optimism for Uluki and his band of warriors that are peacefully undermining the system because the reality of this universe is that nobody gets away with anything. The only thing we have lacked is the consciousness to be able to see the lynchpin that is keeping the fraud alive.

This has been going on for quite a while by the way, all behind the scenes, in secret from multiple angles with the Australians not being the only warriors. Trump has even said cryptically that we should get this whole thing resolved by Easter and what he is referencing in my understanding is this exposure that starts the process of a financial re-arrangement as well as a shift in law application. And because 90% of the world has no clue on how to assert their rights, there is a good chance that the old system will continue to operate in some form, while a new system will slowly take shape.

So now you begin to realize that the icing on the cake is getting money back from our birth certificate trust account. The cake is the ability to get out of the fiction and into the truth. The cake is the ability to tell Satan to go to hell. The cake is the ability to expose any demon in the moment and say I'm onto you and now you must perform the duties that the universe demands you perform. In the case of our interactions with banks and the government, it's the ability to say you are the trustees I am the beneficiary, start doing your job. This requires a shift in understanding who we are and how to align ourselves so we can create heaven on earth at will.

I got a great call this week from a friend who is using The American State Assembly to inform him on how to address his child custody case that was incorrectly ruled in his ex wife's favor. My friend is doing all his work in court himself, not represented by an attorney and going through the steps to call out the fraud and force the judges hand thereby getting custody back of his daughter. But maybe the most interesting part of the conversation was him corroborating evidence by virtue of his residence in Nevada, that Las Vegas has been quietly closing their casinos, providing more evidence that the great financial reset may happen as early as this week or next.

I know, it sounds crazy, but there you have it...we really are making a massive shift in the way planet earth operates, all being led by consciousness and exposing the lies. We don't have to be perfect or know everything or be "Executor of our Trust" yet. We just have to be on the path and learning more every day. Because there is no way to understand or grasp all of this in one sitting. And we've got the rest of our lives to get this right. This is the shift in paradigm that counts...not finding a political party, not fulfilling the American Dream, not accomplishing an agenda...but establishing ourselves as the connected souls we are, transcending the 3D trap.

My wife appeared in my friend's dream the other day, can you believe it? She told him specifically to tell me that I'm doing great and that everything is going to be OK.

Hilarious.

I'm going with that one for now since it came from the other side of the spiritual realm.
